Project: CarKonnnect: An app to find used cars and spare parts

What Am I Proud about:

- This week I have updated the login page with different way compared to previous week
- And also connected the login page to database for few things for index, login and quote page and also updated the css for them
- Most of the things were done but still there are some things which I am still trying to update
- We are still trying to collect some car data hope we will complete it soon
